

Get Access from Anywhere

To access online resources that you find in the Library catalogue, authenticate via the Get access from anywhere link.

Also found under the "Quick Links" heading on the Library homepage.

The screenshot shows the University of Waterloo Library website. At the top left is the University of Waterloo logo. Below it is a dark grey header with the word "LIBRARY" in white. The main heading is "Get access from anywhere". There are two login options separated by "OR". The first option is "Log in with WatIAM" with a sub-link "Log in with your WatIAM username and password." The second option is "Don't have a WatIAM username? Log in with your library credentials". This section has two input fields: "LAST NAME" and "WatCard 14-Digit BARCODE NUMBER (for example, 2118700000000)". A blue "Login" button is at the bottom of the second form.

If you find a resource in the catalogue that is "Available Online", click on the record and then select the hyperlink under the heading "View Online" to get access.

If needed, you will be prompted to authenticate by the same "Get access from anywhere" link.

The screenshot shows a journal record for "Environmental science & policy (Online)". It includes a book icon, the journal title, copyright information (©1998-), and a "PEER-REVIEWED" badge. A link "Available Online" is present. On the left, there is a navigation menu with "VIEW ONLINE" selected. Below the menu is a "Send to" section with icons for CITATION, EMAIL, PERMALINK, EXPORT BIBTEX, EXPORT RIS, EASYBIB, ENOTE, and NETWORKS. There is also a "Print" icon. Below that is a "Search inside" section with a search box and the text "Search for articles within this journal". Underneath is a "View Online" section with a search box and the text "Article title or keyword". At the bottom, there are two links for "Full text availability": "CRKN Elsevier ScienceDirect" (available from 1998 volume: 1 issue: 1) and "Elsevier SD Freedom Collection". Each link has a "SHOW LICENSE" button with a checkmark icon.
