Formatting: Double-space your Works Cited page and use a 0.5 inch hanging indent for each entry.

Author(s): Reverse the first author's name, starting with their last name, a comma, then the rest of their name. If there is a second author, add a comma, the word "and" then the second author's first and last names (not reversed). If there are three or more authors, write the first author's name as described, followed by "et al." End the author information with a period.

Page Title: In quotation marks, write the title of the webpage or online article using title case (e.g. capitalizing all major words). Follow the title with a period placed before the closing quotation mark.

Site Name: In italics, write the name of the website, followed by a comma.

Publisher: The publisher of the website can usually be found at the bottom of the page beside a copyright symbol (e.g. © 2022 NPR). If the publisher's name is the same or very similar to the name of the website, you can skip this step.

Date: Write the day, month, and year the content was posted. If there is no date given, skip this step.

URL: Add the webpage's URL, removing the protocol (https://) from the beginning. Follow the URL with a period.

Date Accessed: If there is no posting date, or if the content on the page is likely to change, include the date you accessed the page. Write "Accessed" then the day, month, and year you accessed the content, followed by a period.
